

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

SALUTATORY.

WHOEVER will look back over the last twenty years in the history of Yale College, will be convinced that the law-makers have been abroad in the land. On every page we find dark-margined obituaries of those institutions of which only the fondly cherished traditions have come to us children of a later day. The Wooden Spoon, the Burial of Euclid, and a score of others went from our social life long ago; and now the earth is still fresh on the grave of the Jubilee. One by one they have succumbed to the same fatal disease, of a sedentary nature,—they were “sat on” by the Faculty.

The BANNER, however, has escaped, and once more sends its greeting to the college world. Its long services and well-known value are its sufficient recommendation. The editors have given unusual care to make this issue complete and accurate, and have included no lists or statistics that are not strictly official.

Among the advertisers will be found the most reliable firms in New Haven, and we suggest the fairness of patronizing those who help college enterprises.

It only remains for us to commit this almost sole survivor of our college institutions to the favor and support of Yale men.

SALUTATORY.

Two score years have made wondrous changes in this City of Elms, and the ancient hostilities between Town and Gown which were the means of starting the BANNER as the students' organ in opposition to the Firemen's sheet, "The City Guard and Moral Scavenger" have long since died a peaceful and a welcome death. Though the circumstances which called it into life have passed away, the BANNER itself has survived the "wrecks of time," and as the venerable blue-coated old gentleman shows his long-looked-for and ever welcome face upon the Campus in this the thirty-eighth year of his life among us, though retaining all of his youthful vigor, his attitude is now eminently one of "Malice toward none, and charity toward all."

The editors have made every effort to have the date of publication earlier than ever before—a fact which will commend itself to every student—and have spared neither time nor expense to make the present issue a credit to themselves and the university. They would call attention especially to the new cartoons, the historical memorabilia, the complete athletic report, and the tide calendar (a table of invaluable aid to all boating men), compiled for them through the kindness of Mr. Minor of Church street.

The absence in Europe of the Secretary of the College has made the compiling of all student lists a matter of unusual difficulty, but nothing has been inserted which is not strictly official. We commend to the patronage of all Yale men the gentlemen who have favored us with their business cards. The incoming class will find our "business directory" a complete and accurate guide to all the first class tradesmen in town and the leading headquarters for students' supplies in New York.

As we go to press the melancholy news reaches us that the last strenuous effort to revive the Jubilee has failed. While bidding a final and sad farewell to this, the pleasantest and thoroughly enjoyed of all our ancient customs, and feeling deeply grateful to the fates who thus far have spared from our necks the axe which slowly but surely is severing all our connections with the past, we commend the present volume to the favor and support of every loyal son of Yale—whose approving smile shall form our sole reward.

Through the kindness of the editors of the Yale Record, the exchanges from the important American colleges are kept in the reading room for the perusal of the students.

REGULATIONS.

The Reading Room is open daily during the College Year ; on week-days from 9.30 A.M. to 8 P. M., on Sundays from 1 P. M. to 8 P. M.

Authority is given to the Custodian to maintain the quiet and good order of the Room.

Any person who shall willfully mutilate or deface any newspaper or periodical shall be excluded from the use of the room.

TERMS.

Undergraduates of the Academic and Scientific Departments are admitted without tickets, the fee for the use of the room being included in the term-bills.

For all others tickets of admission, which may be procured of the Custodian, are necessary.

Price of tickets for the College year, to members of any department of the University $2.00, to others $3.00.

SALUTATORY.

After weeks of constant and almost thankless labor, the BANNER is once more offered to the college world. Rather than attempt to praise it ourselves, we would let it speak for itself, confident that thus it will meet with its just measure of approval. Faults we know there will be, and some unavoidable errors,—for these we ask pardon, and hope that otherwise it will fulfill our desire to make it a most reliable and interesting book of reference on Yale College matters.

Though some may criticise our delay in publication, we trust they will overlook this, remembering that as this is the first time the BANNER has been issued by juniors, it has met with obstacles never before encountered. And in any case accuracy can not be obtained without patient waiting.

We have taken the liberty of appearing in a new dress, feeling assured that the change in this respect will be an improvement sufficiently welcome to atone for our transgressing the rules of traditional custom.

For the success of our illustrations much will be due to the zealous co-operation of Mr. E. H. Barbour, '82.

We leave the BANNER to you, hoping that it will be sought for as eagerly as was a certain other banner not long ago.

Through the kindness of the editors of the Yale Record, the exchanges from the important American colleges are kept in the reading room for the perusal of the students.

REGULATIONS.

The Reading Room is open daily during the College Year ; on week-ends from 9.30 A.M. to 8 P.M., on Sundays from 1 P.M. to 8 P.M.

Authority is given to the Custodian to maintain the quiet and good order of the room.

Any person who shall willfully mutilate or deface any newspaper or periodical shall be excluded from the use of the room.

TERMS.

Undergraduates of the Academic and Scientific Departments are admitted without tickets, the fee for the use of the room being included in the tuition bills.

For all others tickets of admission, which may be procured of the Custodian, are necessary.

Price of tickets for the College year, to members of any department of the University $2.00, to others $3.00.

COLLEGE CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Intercollegiate Base Ball Association was formed December 6, 1875, by the following college clubs, viz: Amherst, Brown, Dartmouth, Harvard, Princeton, Yale. Yale subsequently withdrew, on account of the refusal of the Association to debar professional players. The remaining colleges then contested for the Association Championship, and Princeton was victorious. Yale, however, having arranged games with Amherst, Harvard, and Princeton, won the series with each of these nines, thus defeating the champion of the Association, and obtaining undisputed right to the title of champion for 1880.

The several scores are given below.

"Taking an outside estimate of the championship question it is very questionable if any one can have any reasonable doubt of the lead in the college arena which Yale has obtained this season. While in the fourteen contests with League and National professional teams Yale has won eleven games, not another college club team has won a single victory in a match with any League or National team. This alone would award Yale the supremacy even if the team had not won every game with the college nines which they have played. Unquestionably the Yale nine of 1880 is the strongest in the college arena, and it will be difficult for any one to reasonably deprive them of the nominal championship of the college clubs of the country." —N. Y. World.

Instruc. to Key Holders.

To give an alarm, open the door, pull the hook to the bottom of the slot once and let go.

Do not give an alarm for a fire seen at a distance, unless assistance is called for.

Be sure the box is locked before leaving it.

General Instructions.

When a portion of the Department answers to an alarm, and soon after another alarm be given from another Station (the signal of two strokes not having been given), those remaining in quarters will immediately respond.

Two strokes, a quarter of a minute interval, is the signal of no fire or fire under control.

Second Alarms will be given after the arrival on the fire ground by the Chief or Acting Chief Engineer.

For the sounding of a General Alarm, two strokes will be given by the officer in charge, and will call into service the entire force.
